Performance Notes

Revelation 7:17 and 21:4 are the source of the refrain text, and the verses develop from Isaiah 25:8. The text clearly suggests use for funeral liturgies, but the song would also be appropriate for communal reconciliation.

In many communities, the musical resources for funerals may be limited to the accompanist and cantor or "Resurrection Choir." However, even a small choir should have no difficulty learning and singing this simple two-part harmony. It should be sung with feeling, tenderly, and with quiet confidence in God's promise.
