(All Saints Day Is Near)

SOLO INSTRUMENT

Jack Miffleton

INTRO With a spooky feeling (♩ = ca. 108)

♩ VERSES 1-3

The musical score is written on three staves in a 2/4 time signature with a key signature of three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat). The first staff contains the introduction and the first measure of the verses. The second staff continues the verses, including a first ending marked '1, 2' and a 'D.S.' (Da Capo) instruction. The third staff concludes with a 'Final' marking. The music features a mix of eighth and sixteenth notes, with some rests and dynamic markings.

Pumpkins, Apples, Candy Corn

In the parochial school experience, the Solemnity of All Saints is sandwiched between Halloween (All Hallows Eve) and All Souls Day. Halloween has become an industry and children love it. Most teachers learn quickly to incorporate this teaching the children's enthusiasm and interest in such events. Seize the opportunity available here for childlike prayer. Children often come to school on Halloween dressed in costumes. Lead the costumed creatures, clowns and marauders into church. Bless them; pray for their well-being and safety. Sing this song that teaches children to put Halloween in its proper perspective as the vigil of All Saints.
