Composer Notes

Jean Sibelius' FINLANDIA easily ranks among the most beloved hymn tunes of all time. It seemed to me an ideal vehicle for the noble (and global) sacredness of the song of Mary we know as the Magnificat. This hymn is very useful on occasions where people from many backgrounds celebrate evening prayer.

Here is a setting of the canticle that can be sung with confident fervor by nearly everyone present. I saw no need to rework the time-honored choral harmonization, so I simply added an original introduction, text, clarinet obbligato, and soprano descant. This allows for the adaptation of this canticle to every conceivable scale from the hushed a cappella intimacy of a small faith community to the soaring grandeur of the most august cathedral and its assembly of hundreds.

The universality of FINLANDIA marries well to the words of our Mother's unending song of praise to God for his liberating covenant of mercy and justice.
