Composer Notes

This Canticle of Zechariah can be found on two recordings, Morning and Evening—Prayer for the Commute, Prayer for the Journey (double CD 20099, songbook 20139), where it can be heard sung in five different ways, and Glory Bound (CD 20638, octavo packet 20639), a compilation of pieces from Morning and Evening.

It may be sung as the canticle at the end of Morning Prayer, or at any time as a song of praise—especially during Advent. It is particularly suitable for children. It has a strong melody, so it works well unaccompanied. If it is sung often, add variety by alternating the instrument parts. Vocal variety may be achieved by alternating men and women by verse or within each verse, like in the example below:

Men: To God of old we praise thee, who saves us all from sinful ways.
 Women: From David's house and family, a Savior comes to set us free.
 All: Our enemies we need not fear. The prophets said, "The Lord is near!"
