Performance Notes

This strong song of commitment is best used as a closing song at Liturgy. It is a joyous song for the Easter season, but is used throughout the liturgical year. The first communion children in our parish sang it (and gestured to it) as a group after communion. The assembly then sang it again as a final song while the children processed from the sanctuary. It is a hymn that appeals to older students as well and has been used as a final song at Confirmation. The descant provided for this song adds strength when sung by a children's choir.
